

Time Boundaries Psalm 39:4-6; Ecclesiastes 5:15-16

Key Truth: Life is _____. Your season is specific.
Steward it with _____.

Two Biblical Perspectives on Time:

“A _____ perspective on time recognizes life is short, embraces the season it is in and stewards it with wisdom.”

“A _____ perspective on time treats time as unlimited, resents the season it’s in and drifts through it.”

Boundary 1: _____ your time and recognize that it is short
-When you recognize life is short, you stop
_____ it on the things that do not matter.

Boundary 2: Name your _____ and accept it.
-Time is not just passing; it’s _____.

Boundary 3: _____ your season with wisdom.

Response/Reflection:

1. Name your _____
2. Name your _____
3. Identify the _____ in the fences around your time
4. Build _____ that lead to wisdom

Time Boundaries Psalm 39:4-6; Ecclesiastes 5:15-16

Key Truth: Life is _____. Your season is specific.
Steward it with _____.

Two Biblical Perspectives on Time:

“A _____ perspective on time recognizes life is short, embraces the season it is in and stewards it with wisdom.”

“A _____ perspective on time treats time as unlimited, resents the season it’s in and drifts through it.”

Boundary 1: _____ your time and recognize that it is short
-When you recognize life is short, you stop
_____ it on the things that do not matter.

Boundary 2: Name your _____ and accept it.
-Time is not just passing; it’s _____.

Boundary 3: _____ your season with wisdom.

Response/Reflection:

1. Name your _____
2. Name your _____
3. Identify the _____ in the fences around your time
4. Build _____ that lead to wisdom

A Time for Everything

What does Ecclesiastes tell us about life?

Use the clock to complete the passage.

“ _____
 _____ a _____

 _____,
 _____ a _____

 _____ the _____.”

A Time for Everything

What does Ecclesiastes tell us about life?

Use the clock to complete the passage.

“ _____
 _____ a _____

 _____,
 _____ a _____

 _____ the _____.”